Findings of Fact

The Administrator finds:

1. On June 1, 1996, Glen Mateljan contracted to purchase a 1986 Chevrolet Corvette, VIN 1G1YY0781G5111749, from Capitol Corvette. Mr. Mateljan sold a 1960 Chevrolet Corvette on consignment at Capitol Corvette. He received $45,000 for the 1960 Corvette. Mr. Mateljan applied $12,000 of this amount for the purchase of the 1986 Chevrolet Corvette. Glen Mateljan took possession of the 1986 Chevrolet Corvette and retained possession of the vehicle as of the date of the hearing in this matter.
2. In June, 1996, Capitol Corvette was a motor vehicle dealer conducting business at 5400 King James Way, Madison, Wisconsin, 53719. Capitol Corvette was in the business of selling used motor vehicles. Capitol Corvette was a sole proprietorship and held motor vehicle dealer license number 1047. David C. Larson was the owner and sole proprietor of Capitol Corvette. On December 9, 1996, the Division of Hearings and Appeals issued an order revoking Capitol Corvette's motor vehicle dealer license (Docket Nos. 96-H-986 and 96-H-993).
3. The Division of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Transportation (DMV) is part of an agency of the State of Wisconsin and is authorized under sec. 218.01, Stats., to license, inspect, and regulate motor vehicle dealers in Wisconsin. DMV also has the authority under chapters 341 and 342, Stats., to issue titles and registration for motor vehicles in Wisconsin.
4. The 1986 Chevrolet Corvette purchased by Glen Mateljan was owned by Allen G. Osowski. Mr. Osowski had entered into a consignment agreement with Capitol Corvette to sell the vehicle. Capitol Corvette failed to pay Mr. Osowski the purchase price for this vehicle, in violation of the terms of the consignment agreement.
5. Glen Mateljan applied to the DMV for Wisconsin title and registration for the subject vehicle. Because of conflicting ownership claims, the DMV refused to issue a title or registration to Glen Mateljan.
6. When Glen Mateljan purchased the subject vehicle from Capitol Corvette, he was not aware that it was owned by Allen G. Osowski or that the Corvette was sold on consignment by Capitol Corvette for Mr. Osowski. Glen Mateljan purchased the Corvette at Capitol Corvette's business premises and he believed that Capitol Corvette owned this vehicle and had the authority to sell it. Capitol Corvette did not inform Mr. Mateljan that the Corvette was owned by Mr. Osowski.

7. Glen Mateljan has never worked for an automobile dealer, nor has he worked in the automotive industry. Prior to this transaction, Glen Mateljan had purchased another Corvette from Capitol Corvette.
8. Glen Mateljan purchased the subject motor vehicle in good faith and without knowledge that the sale was in violation of the ownership rights of Allen G. Osowski. Glen Mateljan is a buyer in the ordinary course of business of the subject motor vehicle

Discussion

Glen Mateljan has applied to the DMV for a certificate of title and registration for the subject motor vehicle. Pursuant to secs. 342.11(1) and 342.12(2), Stats., the DMV refused to issue a title or registration to Mr. Mateljan for the subject motor vehicle.¹

The Wisconsin motor vehicle code is silent with respect to issuance of a title and registration in this situation. The transaction is regulated by the Uniform Commercial code. Pursuant to the sec. 402.403(2), Stats., "[a]ny entrusting of possession of goods to a merchant who deals in goods of that kind gives the merchant power to transfer all rights of the entruster to a buyer in ordinary course of business." In the instant matter, Allen G. Osowski entrusted the subject motor vehicle to Capitol Corvette for the purpose of selling the vehicle. Accordingly, Capitol Corvette had the power to transfer ownership of the vehicle to a buyer.

Capitol Corvette has authority to transfer interest in the vehicle even if the consignor has retained title. In general, the interests of a consignor are not protected unless the consignor complies with one of the three alternatives set forth at sec.

The department shall refuse issuance of a certificate of title for any of the following reasons:

- (1) The department has reasonable grounds to believe that:
 - (a) The person alleged to be the owner of the vehicle is not the owner.
 - (b) The application contains a false or fraudulent statement.

Sec 342.12(2), Stats , provides in relevant part:

- (2) If the department is not satisfied as to the ownership of the vehicle or that there are no undisclosed security interests in it, the department, subject to sub. (3), shall either:
 - (a) Withhold issuance of a certificate of title until the applicant presents documents reasonable sufficient to satisfy the department as to the applicant's ownership of the vehicle and that there are no undisclosed security interests in it; or
 - (b) Issue a distinctive certificate of title pursuant to sec. 342.10(4) or 342.283.

402.326(3), Stats., relating to informing prospective creditors of the consignee of a potential security interest.² Allen G. Osowski has not alleged that he complied with the provisions of sec. 402.326(3), Stats.

Glen Mateljan purchased the vehicle from Capitol Corvette. He was unaware that Capitol Corvette was selling the vehicle on consignment. Even if Mr. Mateljan had been aware that the vehicle was being sold on consignment, there is no evidence that he should have suspected that Capitol Corvette did not intend to use the proceeds of this sale to pay the consignor or the sale was fraudulent in any manner.

Mr. Mateljan has the burden to prove that he is a buyer in the ordinary course of business. The phrase "buyer in the ordinary course of business" is defined at sec. 402.201(9), Stats. Sec. 401.201(9), Stats., provides in relevant part that: "Buyer in ordinary course of business" means a person who in good faith and without knowledge that the sale to the person is in violation of the ownership rights or security interest of a 3rd party in the goods buys in ordinary course from a person in the business of selling goods of that kind . . .'. Based on the evidence in the record, it appears that Glen Mateljan is a good faith purchaser who purchased the vehicle without knowledge that the sale was in violation of the ownership rights of Allen G. Osowski. Glen Mateljan purchased the vehicle from Capitol Corvette, a licensed motor vehicle dealer, which at the time of the purchase was a company in the business of selling used motor vehicle.

Conclusions of Law

The Administrator concludes:

1. Pursuant to sec. 402.403(2), Stats., Capitol Corvette had the power to transfer all of Allen G. Osowski's ownership rights in the subject motor vehicle to a buyer in the ordinary course of business.

² Sec. 402.326(3), Stats., provides in relevant part:

(3) Where goods are delivered to a person for sale and such person maintains a place of business at which the person deals in goods of the kind involved, under a name other than the name of the person making delivery, then with respect to claims of creditors of the person conducting the business the goods are deemed to be on sale or return. This subsection is applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum." However, this subsection is not applicable if the person making delivery.

- (a) Complies with an applicable law providing for a consignor's interest or the like to be evidenced by a sign; or
- (b) Establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by that person's creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others; or
- (c) Complies with the filing provisions of ch 409.

2. Glen Mateljan is a buyer in the ordinary course of business of the subject motor vehicle. Pursuant to sec. 402.403, Stats., Glen Mateljan has acquired title and ownership of the subject motor vehicle.
3. Pursuant to secs. 346.26 and 227.43(1)(bg), Stats., the Division of Hearings and Appeals has the authority to issue the following order.

Order

The Administrator orders:

The Division of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Transportation shall issue a motor vehicle title and registration to Glen Mateljan for the 1986 Chevrolet Corvette, VIN 1G1YY0781G5111749, which is the subject of this matter.
